Dear [REDACTED]:

Quite some time ago we had correspondence concerning [REDACTED] who was registered as [REDACTED] in [REDACTED]. In late 1981 he was arrested and charged with sexual relations with youth. At that time, you sent us a Confidential Record Sheet and newspaper clippings relating to this.

We responded asking that you keep us informed of the situation and also the outcome of any trial which took place. The sentencing is very important in our refusal of registration should he move to another council at a later date.

If you could research your files and tell us whether this individual was convicted and sentenced at that time. This will close the case and we will have all of the information which we need. Thanks for your help.

Sincerely,

Man charged with having sex with two boys

By Paul Klauka
Staff Writer

A man who allegedly enticed juvenile boys to his home by showing them movies and video games was charged Wednesday with having sex with two boys.

[REDACTED], 34, a former, Cub Scout leader who also took part in youth sports programs, faces three counts of third-degree criminal sexual conduct, according to a complaint filed yesterday in Hennepin County District Court. One count was for allegedly having oral sex with a 14-year-old boy. He also was charged with twice having oral sex with a 15-year-old.

The sex acts occurred in [REDACTED] home, the complaint said.

Police searched his home, 1037 SE. 24th Av., Monday after checking reports about sexual activity there involving juveniles. The initial report came from a man whose son told him that an older son "was running around with [REDACTED]" and that the younger son "had been asked by Mr. [REDACTED] to view X-rated films," the complaint said.

The father had talked to other boys in the neighborhood and found that many had been staying [REDACTED] home on weekends, and that sex acts were possibly being committed with juveniles, the complaint said.

Police found a suitcase full of photographs showing nude young boys and several pictures of [REDACTED] engaged in sex acts with young boys, the complaint said. Sgt. Phil Bishman, family violence investigator, said at least 200 pictures were found, many of them taken through a one-way mirror.

[REDACTED] formerly lived in San Francisco, where some of the pictures reportedly were taken, police said. Bishman said he is not sure how many of the youths in the pictures are from the Twin Cities. Five have been identified to date, he said.

"There is no reason to believe any of his team members were involved," Bishman said yesterday. [REDACTED] has known some of the boys for at least two years, he said. Those involved are from northeast Minneapolis.

[REDACTED] befriended many of the boys after meeting them through other boys, according to an application for a search warrant affidavit filed yesterday in district court. An inventory list filed with the affidavit said police found a camera, five rolls of undeveloped film, an artificial sexual device, and pictures of boy scouts and an athletic team.

(Search-warrant affidavits are not formal charges, but are allegations collected by law enforcement officials to justify to a magistrate that there is reason to conduct a search.)

Police said Stachowski invited boys to his home to watch movies and play video games. He also left pornographic magazines in the bathroom, where the mirror was located, and then photographed boys looking at them, Bishman said.

"Some of the kids said they never saw the pictures being taken because he took them through the one-way mirror," Bishman said.

"Most of the kids came over to watch movies; he had all kinds of movies, just stacks of them," Bishman said. "Ninety-five percent of them were decent movies." The remainder were X-rated, including "Deep Throat" and "Devil in Miss Jones," Bishman said.

Police are continuing to investigate Stachowski's alleged involvement with other youths in the pictures. Stachowski was arrested Monday night. He was being held in Hennepin County Jail. He is expected to make his first court appearance at 9 a.m. today. The complaint asks that bail be set at $20,000.

The investigation apparently is unrelated to a similar case involving Terrell Allen Hansen, a South High School teacher, and Patrick Henry Cain. They were charged last week with first-degree criminal sexual conduct and the promotion of minors to engage in obscene works. Arrest warrants have been issued for both men. Anyone with information about their whereabouts is asked to call police at 348-4902.

Circumstances around both investigations, have raised concerns among some police investigators that a growing number of parents are unaware of what their children are doing when away from home. Capt. Carl Johnson, head of the family violence division, said the alleged sexual activity "creates a climate where prostitution of males flourishes."

Bishman, who was recently worked in the vice squad, said, "I wish parents would start waking up and see what's going on now. The kids — they don't seem to search out where their kids are staying."

"You see more and more of it," he said of male juvenile prostitution. "The kids are so vulnerable. (Those involved with Stachowski) told me it was doing a job on their minds."

Minneapolis man, 34, charged in child-porn case

By Debra Stone
Star Writer

ST. PAUL
EVENING
10-1-81

A 34-year-old Minneapolis man, who was a Cub Scout leader, coached youth sports and was praised by neighbors for his friendliness to children, was charged Monday with criminal sexual conduct involving juveniles.

A suitcase filled with pornographic photographs of young boys, pictures of the man performing sex acts with youths, a two-way mirror in the bathroom and sexual paraphernalia were found in the home of Michael Jerome Stachowski, 1037 24th Ave. S.E., Minneapolis, according to Police Sgt. Phil Bishman and to a complaint filed in Hennepin County District Court Wednesday.

Stachowski was charged with having sexual relations with two 15-year-old boys on at least three separate occasions.

MINNEAPOLIS POLICE began investigating Stachowski last Friday after a parent called police to say that his 12-year-old son had been asked by Stachowski to view pornographic films.

The parent "questioned other boys in the neighborhood and found that several boys had been staying over there on weekends and that possibly sex acts were going on in the defendant's home," according to the complaint.

Police immediately began interviewing youths who knew Stachowski and obtained a warrant to search his home. Bishman said Police searched the house Monday and took the photographs, films and paraphernalia as evidence. Stachowski, who manages Moen Photo Service, 2220 Central Ave. N.E., Minneapolis, was arrested Monday and is being held in the Hennepin County Jail.

Stachowski, who lived alone, allegedly offered money for nude photographs, showed the boys pornographic literature and transported boys in a van to his home, according to the application for a search warrant. Stachowski would meet young boys through other youths he had befriended, the application said.

Stachowski has no previous criminal record, Bishman said. The investigation is continuing.

While filing the complaint Wednesday, Bishman emphasized the importance of parents being more aware of what their children do and who they spend their time with.

"Most parents don't know where their kids are spending their weekend," he said.

BISHMAN SAID it appeared that youths had been "coaxed" to the house and not physically forced. Stachowski apparently courted them with games and gifts, Bishman said. Sexual books were found in the bathroom and there was a two-way mirror so youths could be photographed unknowingly, he said.

The operation had been going on at least two years, he said.

Stachowski had done a variety of volunteer work with youths including being a Cub Scout leader in Blaine in the past year. He also coached local youth sports teams.

Neighbors praised Stachowski before hearing about the arrest and those that had heard were astonished.

"I'm totally shocked," said a Minneapolis man who knew Stachowski through his baseball coaching of 12- and 13-year-old boys. "I've known the guy for a long time. Everything seemed to be OK."

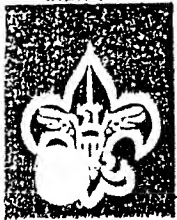

"He seems to be working with children a lot," one neighbor said, before learning of the arrest. "He has lots of electronic games and keeps the kids entertained. I give him credit for that."

"He's a good neighbor," another woman said. "He's very active with youngsters in sports."

Another neighbor called him "a nice guy" who golfs, owns a home and has youths around his house.

Last week, a 33-year-old Minneapolis teacher was being sought on charges of first-degree criminal sexual conduct and promoting minors to engage in obscene acts.

Terrill Allen Hanson, a South High School teacher, and another man were accused of producing pornographic photos, films and video tapes of boys 12 to 16 years old and using boys as homosexual prostitutes.
